

The 33rd International Conference

How will the discussions take place?

Power of humanity

33rd International Conference of the Red Cross and Red Crescent
9-12 December 2019, Geneva

December 10

International humanitarian law

December 11

Shifting vulnerabilities

December 12

Trust in humanitarian action

Commissions

are open to RCRC Movement components, to States and to observers, and are divided into two parts:

1. Plenary sessions start and finish the day to set the scene and take stock of the various discussions held on the day's topic.
2. Spotlight sessions are discussions taking place in smaller groups to allow for interactive debates.

The drafting committee is open to Conference members; to negotiate and finalize the text of the proposed resolutions.

For the record: Voices from the Conference

sessions provide an opportunity for participants and observers to share their statements for the official record.

Side events

are informal sessions that provide participants with a space to explore, showcase, discuss and test ideas on a topic related to the Conference themes.

The Humanitarian trail

is a guided walk through the city of Geneva that showcases cultural and historic places in connection with the Conference.

The Humanitarian Village

is a lively and interactive multimedia space inside the conference centre where participants can share knowledge and experiences.

A networking breakfast and other opportunities will be set up during the Conference to foster exchanges among participants.
