Candidate motivation

I wish to contribute to a cohesive Movement integrating operational, fraternity and resilient activities and to humanitarian advocacy. Serving in the Standing Commission aims to continue the work of strengthening the Council of Delegates and the International Conference in view to ensure that its role and relevance to the States and National Societies is widely advocated and promoted. The work will provide effective involvement of the components of the Movement to improved humanitarian services to the most vulnerable. Having acquired skills and experiences in policy issues, management, media and volunteerism for over 30 years, I am well connected regionally and internationally in political, business and humanitarian services circles. I will bring to the Standing Commission technical and diplomatic expertise that will add value in its deliberations, decision-making and implementation.
